This solar-powered pillar light is a square flat-top lantern in black with a frosted PC shade that spreads the light softly. A solar panel in the roof charges the battery by day and the lamp switches on at dusk and off at day break. Available in three base widths of 25, 30 and 40 cm, it needs no wiring on the solar model and suits gate posts, fence pillars and garden walls. Four-colour and solar + mains hybrid models come with a remote control.
